Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

Helen Keller was born in Alabama in 1880. When she was twenty months old, she got an illness. After her illness, Helen could not hear or see. She was deaf and blind. Helen was a difficult child. Her parents did not know what to do.

Finally, when Helen was seven years old, her parents got her a special teacher. Her name was Miss Anne Sullivan. Miss Sullivan worked with Helen all day. She took Helen's hand and spelled a word in her hand. Helen soon learned to say what she wanted in this way.

In 1990, Helen entered Radcliffe College. Miss Sullivan sat next to Helen in class. She spelled all the words into Helen's hand. Miss Sullivan also read to Helen all the time. At that time there were only a few books for the blind. These were Braille books. They had a special alphabet made with dots that blind people could read with their fingers. Helen graduated from Radcliffe College with honors.

Helen wrote books like The Story of My Life and Midstream, My Later Life. She also wrote magazine articles and spoke all over the world. She learned to speak. It was not easy to understand her. Miss Sullivan repeated what Helen said. Helen spoke about the deaf and blind. People everywhere became interested. There was new hope for the deaf and blind.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

Many people believe that the way we live our lives today is having an extremely bad effect on the environment. Here are some examples of solutions we need to talk about them.

Alternative forms of transport

One of the main problems with cars is that they cause a lot of pollution and often carry only one person. Public transport is more environmentally friendly because buses and trains carry large numbers of people at the same time. Car pools are another way of reducing a number of cars on the roads. Even cleaner solutions are electric cars and bicycles.

Recycling

Recycling is when you use something again instead of throwing it away. Glass, cans, paper and plastic can all be recycled. Recycling saves energy and also reduces damage to the countryside. Many towns have special bins where people can leave their empty bottles and cans for recycling. A lot of paper bags, writing paper and greeting cards are now produced on recycled paper. Even more effective than recycling is choosing products that use a minimum of plastic and paper packaging.

Think globally, act locally

It is personal action that will help preserve world's environment. Actions which are simple and quick.

- Turn off lights and other electrical equipment when not in use.
- Do not pour oil, fat, milk or chemical down the sink
- Use public transport or your bike instead of a car
- Buy products that are recycled, reusable, reliable
- Take shorter showers to save water
- Write on both sides of paper
- Put on more clothing in winter instead of turning up the heater .
- Try to cook several meals at a time
- Use energy efficient light bulbs

Green products

We can protect the environment by choosing to buy green products. Examples of green products are recycled paper, wood from sustainable sources and organic fruit and vegetables.

Question 31: What is the title of this passage?

- A. Ways to protect the environment
- B. Environment is now safe
- C. Benefits of public transport
- D. What should locals do?

Question 32: What does “Think globally, act locally” means?

- A. Protecting the environment is not for citizens but for people in the world
- B. Global warming is getting worse and worse because of the locals
- C. People should care about environmental issues in the world and make efforts to protect the environment
- D. Local should pay more attention to global issues
